Workplace Giving

Guide to supporting Fitzroy Community Hospice for EMPLOYERS

Fitzroy Community Hospice

What is Workplace Giving?

Workplace giving is an easy, tax-effective way for your employees to support local causes by donating directly from their pay.

Why support us?

Fitzroy Community Hospice is Central Queensland's first dedicated hospice. We provide End-of-life Care, Symptom Management and Respite Care of the highest-quality for adults living with a terminal illness, who call Central Queensland home. Our inpatient care is provided at no cost and we also provide free support for loved ones navigating a grief journey, through our Bereavement Support Program.

As a not-for-profit organisation, we rely on community donations to continue delivering our life-changing, compassionate care and support.

For more information please visit fitzroyhospice.org.au and follow us on Facebook @fitzroycommunityhospice.

Double your impact!

We invite you to consider Employer Matched Giving to amplify your team's generosity. Matching donations not only boosts staff morale but demonstrates your company's commitment to supporting our local community.

We can supply promotional materials or arrange a guest speaker to visit your site or office, to share how Workplace Giving directly supports families in Central Queensland who are living through one of life's most difficult stages.

Need more information?

- 07 4887 4138
- accounts@fitzroyhospice.org.au
- 38 Agnes Street, The Range QLD 4700

Getting started is simple!

Step 1

Add Fitzroy Community Hospice as a deduction item in your payroll system.

Step 2

Ask your interested employees to complete our Workplace Giving Authorisation Form to nominate their donation amount.

Step 3

Process deductions and remit total contributions to Fitzroy Community Hospice, including a breakdown of employee donations.

For payment details and preferred reporting templates please email accounts@fitzroyhospice.org.au.

Step 4

Consider other ways your workplace could support Fitzroy Community Hospice, including Matched Giving, to take your support even further!